About This Game

In Series Makers you live your own directors' dream. You start in the 80s at the Netklix-University developing your first own series. Soon you will reach big success and earn tons of money. Be prepared to build your own series and streaming empire, in the world of Series Makers.

Netklix University
You start as a little student who wants to make his dreams come true. You'll develop series the way you want, experiment with new ideas, discover new combinations of settings and themes, while exploring the first game-mechanics.

First own office
With the help of your university, you get the opportunity to broadcast your series on a real television channel. The audience recognizes that the future belongs to you. But there is still a way to go. You move into your first own office, hire new staff, explore new options and both your studio and your skills continue to grow.

Get BIG
Through your success, new possibilities are now open to you. You can now hire even more staff, create your own streaming platform and even build facilities that give you bonuses or unlock entire game mechanics.

I really wanted to like this game however the current amount of content is extremely lack luster and some aspects are quite buggy and dont always work which stops me from progressing.

for right now I wouldn't recommend but id quite happily change this review to a positive once the game is more fleshed out. It's quite entertaining for its price, but pretty lackluster in its content. It's fun for a few hours, no achievements or goals. There's better ones out there.
